Ready, Set, Go!

Tutoring

Several of our Highly Qualified Teachers tutor students of all ages during the summer months. They will create a program and schedule that fits the needs of the student. They meet on campus and achieve great academic results! Start the new school year off right....confident in math, writing, and reading!

Reading support needed? Get access to our scientifically researched and very effective Lexia Reading Program. The student works at home on the computer based program and we monitor their progress here at school. "Lexia has been found to accelerate the development of critical foundational literacy skills in elementary and ELL students. It has also been shown to be effective in remediating struggling readers in middle and high school".

Home support in other areas? Moby Max will be available in the summer months! Math, Language, Science, Writing, you name it, Moby Max supports continuous at home learning-which we can monitor.
